

Product Description

This is a great little practice amp with some very surprising output. I've used this as my practice amp when I started playing guitar. I'm selling this along with some other unused equipment to purchase some new gear and help me clean up a bit. It does have a few minor bumps and bruises and one knob has a piece missing but nothing very serious. Besides that, it's a tough little amp.

The Silvertone Smart III is a full-featured guitar amplifier that's the ideal starter amp. The Smart III is a versatile amplifier with Clean and Overdrive level controls, plus Bass and Treble equalization controls. It provides a guitar input, as well as a special input for a tape deck or MP3 or CD player. Its headphone jack defeats the 6.5" built-in speaker so you can practice in almost complete silence. The Smart III also features 10 Watts of power, as well as rugged construction.
